MEMORANDUM FOR THE ADJUTANTS GENERAL OF ALL STATES, PUERTO RICO, THE U. S. VIRGIN ISLANDS, GUAM, AND THE COMMANDING GENERAL OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

SUBJECT: All States Log Number P09-0009, Implementation of the National Guard Joint Consumer Education and Financial Services Program

1. Reference: 10 USC, Section 992, Consumer Education: Financial Services
2. The current economic climate underscores how important sound financial management practices are to our service members and their families. Their financial health is essential to the National Guard's military preparedness. It is important to ensure our military members and their families are able to mitigate their stressors and maintain their quality of life as they perform difficult missions throughout the world.
3. To underscore my commitment, I have established a Consumer Education and Financial Services Program that will facilitate a comprehensive array of financial support tools within the Department of Defense. Under the direction of NGB-J1, this program has the objective to provide every National Guard member and their family access to services and tools that will help them obtain and maintain financial health. Our program manager will represent the NGB as the liaison to the Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD), the Departments of the Army and Air Force, Military Community and Family Programs, Joint Family Support Assistance Programs, Military OneSource, and State National Guard Associations for consumer education and financial services matters.
4. The immediate objective is to increase awareness of this program. To that end, we will promote outreach opportunities for your Citizen-Soldiers and Airmen through mass informational mailings, and my team, with the support of OSD financial management representatives will attend conferences and be available to make presentations at UTAs, National Guard training sites, education centers, and other locations and events you feel would be appropriate and helpful.

- d. Option 4: Resource Booth/Table – A PF&T table or booth provides financial educational materials and resources designed to meet the unique needs of military Services members, families and service providers. Booth representatives answer questions.

4. Financial Readiness Campaign (Road Show)

- a. Through a partnership with several federal agencies and nonprofit organizations, the Department of Defense (DoD) has launched the Financial Readiness Challenge Campaign, designed to increase personal readiness by reducing the stressors related to financial problems. At the installation Commander's request, the Campaign targets active duty, Guard and Reserve and their families by co-sponsoring a customized event and outreach effort to address the unique issues faced by the local military community.

- b. Each event is designed to help service personnel and family members make direct contact with local, state and federal subject matter experts-- financial counselors and educators. These experts will provide information and assistance on such topics as budgets and spending plans, stretching your dollars to make ends meet, credit management, debt elimination, car buying, housing loans and foreclosures, savings and investments, and financial, estate and retirement planning.
 - c. The Campaign strives to improve financial awareness and abilities, encourage an increase in savings, reduce dependency on credit, and to protect service members against predatory lending practices and assist service members in registering for transition assistance accounts. Because of the DoD Campaign, some of the individual branches of Service are now using the term "financial readiness" in place of "personal financial management."
 - d. POC to schedule is NGB-J1-PRC: Mr. Greg Jacobik, (703) 607-3517, greg.jacobik@us.army.mil or Mr. Rick Mumma, (703) 607-1355, ricky.mumma@us.army.mil
5. Department of Army – Family Programs – Transitional Support Services has developed under the Army One Source website <http://www.myarmyonesource.com>
- a. The Army has developed computer based program on the website called the e-learning center. The focus is to promote financial readiness through 5-8 hour training blocks. These blocks will help provide you with information on matters dealing with money. This training program will guide your way to financial success. View course progress and launch training courses on the AOS website. This is available for all military members. This training is ideal for Commanders and Supervisors to mentor their members for financial health. This training is excellent for commanders and supervisors to educate and promote financial training for all members and spouses.
6. NGB-J1-Personnel, Readiness and Compensation Brief
- a. 30 minutes – 1 hour brief on financial benefits and entitlements to National Guard (NG) members and spouses. Information to discuss are from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, Public Law 111-5 which has specific entitlements for NG members, Housing Assistance Program (HAP), and other information on NG matters pertinent to members. This brief is perfect for National and State gatherings, commanders calls, base awareness fairs or any venue communicating to NG members and spouses on financial matters.
